

Potato Raising

On many of the farms of Prince Edward Island tractors are used to dig potatoes from the fertile, sandy loam. The potato, a native plant of South America, was introduced in Europe by the Spanish. It was brought to North America by European settlers.